This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

PREFACE.

The library was first opened to public use in September, 1854. It then occupied the room which now (December, 1878,) is used as a ward room for ward four. At the time of opening it contained 5,688 volumes, of which 3,413 were purchased, a number which has been increased by purchases and donations, till it is now 19,787, (including about 2,100 volumes which are not assigned to any alcove and which in this catalogue are entered R. L.) The regular annual increase may be roundly stated at 500 volumes.

The honor of founding the library belongs to Hon. Josiah Little, who gave $5000 in money. This donation was followed very soon by large donations of books and money from Hon. Charles Jackson and Col. Samuel Swett of Boston. In 1857 the first printed catalogue was published, and compiled by Hiram A. Tenney, Esq., Librarian, who estimated the number of volumes at 7,600. In the preface he says: "The books bought with the original funds were selected by a committee appointed by the founder. This committee consisted of Hon. Moses Davenport, Rev. Leonard Withington, Rev. Luther F. Dimmick, Rev. Daniel T. Fiske and Nathaniel Hills, Esq."

The first ordinance concerning the Public Library was passed November 20, 1854. By this ordinance the Library was accepted by the city, and the Mayor and Aldermen and their successors in office were made permanent Trustees, and Rules and Orders were made concerning care and delivery of books. This ordinance was repealed by a substitute passed March 5th, 1856. But August, 3d, 1863, both ordinances were superseded and the government of the Library was entrusted to a body consisting of the Mayor and President of the Common Council, ex-officio, and of seven legal voters chosen by the concurrent vote of the Common Council and Aldermen, who hold for seven years, but are so divided into classes as to create a vacancy of one-seventh of the board annually. The election is in January: and a list of those who have served as Directors is given in Appendix A.

There are, besides these elected Directors, three permanent ones, representatives of the subscribers to the building fund.

The fund for the purchase of books began by the donations of Josiah Little and others in 1854, was augmented in 1858 by $5,000 received from the estate of M. P. Sawyer, and in 1868 George Peabody left to five trustees the large sum of $15,000, the expenditure of which is not controlled by the Directors. Besides these means of increase the library has been the recipient of donations of books from over two hundred different persons or corporations, and perhaps one-fourth of the library has been so acquired. A list of those who have given more than ten books is to be found in Appendix B.

The Library would have been inadequately accommodated for room, except at a very considerable municipal cost, but for the public spirit of the subscribers to a building fund, and of others who contributed by lectures, to procure a suitable edifice. There is not space here to enumerate all those who were active in this, but special mention should be made of Hon. Edward S. Moseley, who not only led off with a liberal subscription himself but was indefatigable in aiding and advancing the enterprise. Those who desire can learn the details of this work, together with other matters connected with the history of the Library, by consulting a monograph published in 1866 by the Directors.

For some time there has been need of a printed catalogue of the books in the Public Library, and a fund to defray the expense has been slowly accumulating for some years. A card catalogue is at best a poor substitute for the printed list. It would be better to devote fifteen per cent. at least of the money that is expended for books to the publishing of catalogues, and once in ten years these catalogues should be collated into one list to save the trouble of searching through several volumes. Without this provision books may accumulate by the thousands only to repose on the shelves as useless lumber, and a library become a place for entombing books instead of educatin thousands of adults whose means areinsufficient to furnish their hungry minds with mental nutriment.

This catalogue contains every book which was in the Library in December, 1878. It is intended to be topical. Books have in every case been entered by the author's name when given, and in hundreds of cases resort has been had to other catalogues, or other books, to find the name when the author did not give it; and where any word in the title was capable of being used as a subject, the book has also been entered by the subject. Sometimes pseudonyms have been used, (in the case of living writers or where the real name could not be ascertained), but generally the real, though concealed name has been sought out, and a cross reference made, under the pseudonym. Without this precaution many authors whose timidity or policy has led them to assume a false name could not be readily found. Novels have been entered by their name, (discarding only the articles); Histories and Travels by the name of the country, town or rivers described; Biographies by the name of the person whose life is narrated. Those books which have no special subject, but range over a division of literature, as for instance, Emerson's Essays, Whittier's Poems, Paley's Sermons, are unsuitable to be listed except under the author's name, unless they are entered scores of times. But, with the exception of such books, there is generally to be found a heading less general than Essays, Poems or Sermons. The works on science have been grouped under the different sciences, using the comprehensive names, however, and not resorting to minute subdivisions. It is believed that this will facilitate the finding of books, and be more satisfactory to a person exploring a particular vein of learning than to have divided each natural science into a dozen or more heads. In a small library, and in one intended for popular use, such subdivisions impair the advantage of alphabetising. As an instance of the application of this rule, Botany or Zoology, which might be divided into six or more classes, makes but one each.

The groups that have been made, which contain more than ten entries, besides the geographical groups, are as follows:—Agriculture; Astronomy; Biology; Birds; Catalogue; Chemistry; Christianity; Ecclesiastical History (subdivided); Education; Engravings, Encyclopædias; Evolution; Finance; Flowers; Fruit; Geography; Geology; Gold; Health; History: Horse; Human; Husbandry; Indians; Insects; Juvenile; Law; Life; Literature; Lives; Man; Mathematics, Medicine; Metaphysics; Middle Ages; Military and Naval; Music; Mythology; Natural History; Natural Philosophy; Nature; Painters; Painting; Palæontology; Philology; Philosophy; Physical Geography; Physics; Political Economy; Political Philosophy; Reformation; Religion; Revolution; Science; Siderial Heavens; Slavery; Social Science; Steam; Surgery; Technology (subdivided); Testaments, Old and New; Theology (subdivided); Voyages; War; Women; Zoology.

As an additional aid to pursuing any line of inquiry, the books have been arranged in the alcoves according to classes. Thus have been placed in:—

Alcove A, Recent Novels.
Alcove B, Poetry, Essays, Translations.
Alcove C, Metaphysics, Social and Political Science, Philosophy.
Alcove D, Agriculture, Science, Technology.
Alcove E, Ecclesiastical and Theological.
Alcove F, Biography.
Alcove G, History.
Alcove H, Recent Travels.
Alcove I, Early Novels and Stories.
Alcove J, Education, Essays, Lectures.
Alcove K, Official Documents, Politics, Speeches.
Alcove L, Agriculture, Early Science.
Alcove M, Old Sermons, Theology.
Alcove N, Biography, Genealogy, Memoirs.
Alcove O, History and Historical Biography.
Alcove P, Early Travels.

The number of a book tells its relative size and place, i. e. the small books are on the upper shelves ranging from 1 to 150; these are generally 24mo. books; the largest quartos and folios are numbered usually above 1000, and are to be found on the lower shelves; while books between 150 and 1000 are generally 8vo. This has obviated the necessity of frequent repetition in the catalogue of the figures which express 24mo., 8vo., 4to., &c., which indicate the way in which the paper is folded, with an intimation only as to the size.

The Trustees of the Peabody Fund have endeavored to obtain books of a standard character and permanent value. They have secured many volumes of these, and the books selected by them are very generally choice and elegant and of the best editions. The judgment which time gives (eliminating what is trashy and ephemeral) is more valuable than even the best discretion.

"Time is the most just of critics." But it is to be remembered that the Library is not intended merely for savants or philosophers. It has chiefly in view adult education; and as to that it has proved a success. Although more works of fiction are read than any other class of books, books of travel are following close after them in popularity. No kind of reading is more instructive and useful than careful descriptions of foreign countries, their customs and institutions. The illustrated books of travels purchased with the Peabody fund are an acquisition to the people of this community whose pursuits have been commercial, and who desire to take a broad view of the world we live in.

If no other fact were presented than that books of travel and works on political and social science are very numerouely read by the men who reside here it, would be enough to prove the utility and advantage of the Public Library. It places the means of a liberal education within the reach of every person who knows how to read. It corrects the tendency to narrowness and pedantry, which confinement to a classical education, a mere collegiate course, favors; and it gradually raises the standard of intelligence. The difference in social condition between a city which has no free Public Library and one that has, is noticeable after a few years. What is now wanted is an endowment, or an appropriation, which shall pay the expense of throwing the Library open on holidays and evenings, which would enable men of business and working men to more generally use it.

The books bought with the Peabody fund are put in alcoves marked by double letters, and are sorted as follows:—

Alcove BB, Miscellanies and Poetry.

Alcove CC, Political and Social Science, Philosophy.

Alcove DD, Technology, Natural Science.

Alcove EE, Ecclesiastical and Theological.

Alcove FF, Recent Biography.

Alcove GG, History.

Alcove HH, Illustrated Travels.

The Reading Room in connection with the Public Library is very useful and popular It is maintained chiefly by a generous annuity bestowed by Wm. C. Todd, Esq., but is aided by the contributions of newspapers and periodicals by several of our citizens. The salary of the superintendent is paid out of the Peabody Fund.

REGULATIONS AS TO USE OF LIBRARY.

ARTICLE I. All persons hereinafter specified, who shall sign an obligation to observe all the existing rules and regulations of the Library, and all rules that may be subsequently prescribed by due authority, shall have free right to take books from the Library, as long so they comply strictly with its regulations.

All inhabitants of the city of Newburyport, above the age of sixteen years; all inhabitants of the town of Newbury and West Newbury, above the age of sixteen years, provided said towns shall pay annually, in the month of January, to the city of Newburyport, their proportion of the expenses of managing said Library, compared with those incurred by said city for that purpose; said proportions to be in the ratio of the respective appraisements of said city and towns, in the State valuation: and also that each of said towns pay one-half per centum, annually, on the cost of the apartments or buildings employed for said Library; any person not an inhabitant of Newburyport, Newbury or West Newbury, who shall be a benefactor to the Library to an amount not less than twenty dollars.

ART. II. No person shall be allowed the use of more than one volume at a one time. Books may be kept out of the Library fourteen days only, provided always, any book may be renewed once to the same person, but not more than once until it shall have remained in the library one full library day. The fine for retention of any volume over the time above specified, shall be two cents for every day it is so retained. The provisions of this Article are subject to the discretionary power conferred on the Committee on Library by Chapter 1, Article 5, Section 4.

ART. III. Any book retained two weeks beyond the time prescribed by these regulations, shall be sent for by the librarian; and the expense incurred in obtaining it shall be paid by the person so retaining it. No transfer of books will be permitted except at the library.

ART. IV. All injuries to books beyond a reasonable wear, and all losses, shall be made good to the satisfaction of the Committee on Library, by the person liable; and any book not returned within one week after demand for it, made by the librarian, shall be regarded as lost. If any book be lost, the person for whose use it was taken out shall pay such a sum as the committee shall determine, or replace the book; or if it be one of a set, he shall pay the price of a set and take the remaining volumes to himself, if the Committee on Library should so determine.

ART. V. All books are required to be returned to the library fourteen days before the annual examination, under penalty of a fine of one dollar, but seasonable public notice shall be given by the librarian.

ART. VI. No person owing a fine or forfeiture shall receive books from the library until the same is paid.

ART. VII. All persons visiting the Library Room will be required to demean themselves quietly, and to avoid all unnecessary conversation in the room. Any person abusing the privileges of the library by improper or offensive conduct, will be denied admission to the Library Room.

ART. VIII. Every person entitled to borrow books out of the Public Library, and desirous so to do, shall receive from the librarian a printed card, on which the alcove and number of the book asked for shall be designated in blanks left for the purpose, and if it be a part of a set, then the number of the particular volume; all which numbers may be easily ascertained from the printed copies of the catalogue; and this card which will be presented to the librarian as the only mode of obtaining any book that may be asked for, will be returned to the owner at once if the book cannot be found, or if it is found, then as soon as it is duly charged in the borrower's account.

ART. IX. Books of reference, and those deemed by the Committee on Library unsuitable for general circulation, shall not be loaned except by an order, signed by at least two of the said committee.

ART. X. The library shall be open for the delivery of books every day, Sundays, Christmas, New Year's day, Thanksgiving days, Fast days, Washington's birth-day, and Fourth of July excepted; also excepting the following day when either of the two days last mentioned occurs on Sunday. From March to November inclusive, it shall be open from 9 A.M. till 1 P.M., and from 2 till half-past 5 P.M. During the other months of the year it shall be open from 9 A.M. till 1 P.M., and from 2 P.M. till 5 P.M.

REGULATIONS AS TO THE USE OF THE READING ROOM.

ARTICLE I. The Reading Room shall be open to all citizens of sixteen years of age, and upwards, on signing the rules adopted by the Directors for its government, and agreeing to conform to them.

ART. II. Strangers may be introduced on similar terms.

ART. III. The Reading Rooms shall be open from 9 A.M. till 1 P.M.; from 2 P. M. till 6 P.M.; and from 7 P.M. till 9 P.M.

ART. IV. As the rooms are designed for reading, no conversation will be allowed. Periodicals may be had on application to the Superintendent.

ART. 5. No book, periodical or paper can be taken from the room.

CATALOGUE.

NOTE.—In this catalogue n. t. p., stands for no title page; n. d., stands for no date; R. L. refers to librarian. The capital letters in the column before the figures stand for the alcove, and the numbers at the right hand for the numbers of the book in the alcove; where two numbers occur they are for the first and last volumes.
